

MARAUDER DAILY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Friday, May 20, 2022

Block Order – H / G / F / E

The PITT Stop Menu: ** Closed TODAY ****

Door Decorators!

Judging is TODAY in E block...which class will reign supreme?

Attention Students! It's Shelfie time! Contest runs TODAY at the end of the school day.

Visit the bulletin board outside the library to see our display of staff bookshelves. Correctly match the bookshelves to the staff members featured on the board to win a prize. Entry forms and contest rules are on the bulletin board, and you can drop off completed forms to the box in the library.

Look at the shelves carefully, or maybe even visit the staff members featured for some clues. Happy guessing!

DAILY LITERACY CHALLENGES

Did you submit your entry using the QR code? If you did, check the windows of the library or the front office to see if you won a prize! Prize winners are posted daily, so be sure to check every day. Is your name on the list?

See Ms. Ward in room 2012 to collect your prize at Flex, lunch, or after school by Tuesday May 24.

➤ Attention Authors!

Show off your literary talent in the 6-word story contest! Write a masterpiece that uses exactly 6 words, no more, no less, and submit it to the envelope on Ms. Ward's door (Room 2012). One winner will be chosen for each grade level in English, and one junior/one senior for French to receive an awesome prize.

All entries must be submitted by TODAY at 2:30 pm.

Make sure you include your full name, grade, and homeroom on your entry. See the contest posters for more details!

➤ Visit the StarBooks Audiobook Café!

Come to Ms. Saed's room (Room 2019) every day at Flex this week to listen to the fabulous murder mystery, One of Us is Lying by Karen M. McManus. Five teenagers walk into detention, but only 4 come out alive..... Come have a listen and some snacks!

Trees
By Joyce Kilmer

I think that I shall never see
A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is prest
Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day,
And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in Summer wear
A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me,
But only God can make a tree.

The poem begins with the speaker stating that he will never see a poem that is more beautiful than a tree. The poem concludes with the speaker explaining that no matter what humankind does, no poem or piece of art will be lovelier than what already exist in the planet. Why should we care, because our planet is changing and not for the better. What role are you going to play to keep nature beautiful?

Improv club meeting

Thursday May 26 during FLEX – go to Studio 42 - the Drama Room (across from the office). Want to play a sport that uses your creative spirit and love of acting. Well, the improv club could be for you. We are looking for new members to join the team.

Volunteers Needed

The City of Pitt Meadows is looking for volunteers for Pitt Meadows Day on Saturday, June 4. Visit the Career Centre for more information.

Attention Grads

Visit the Career Centre to pick-up your 2 Compass Grad Pass tickets.